Games.

The home team won the fourth and last of the series of games with the "wild cat" nine from Milwaukee, yesterday afternoon, defeating them by a score of 11 to 3. The game was anything but an interesting one, and dragged slowly, all owing to a disposition on the part of the visitors to quarrel and wrangle every time an opportunity presented itself. The visitors presented Burns in the pitcher's box, and during the latter half of the game he was pounded unmercifully, the home team securing off his delivery a total of twenty bases. Miller was rather wild in the start, but braced up after the third inning, and eleven of the festive young men from Milwaukee fanned the breeze. They bit him safe but eight times, one of these hits being a double by Stockwell. The visi- | of music can afford to miss it. tors had a small lead up to the sixth inning, when it was easily overcome by hard hitting by Thompson, Collins, Moriarity, Crane, Miller, Arundell's error and McQuery's base on | balls. In this inning Arundell, the alleged prize figher, who sails under the cognomen of "Tug Wilson," made a little break crush. that will cost him $25 unless Umpire Hoover relents, which is not at all likely. This individual, who never was a catcher, became very much enraged when he realized that he and his brother famblers were as good as beaten, and he wanted to vent his spits on somebody. So, when Sam Crane was sliding in on his wild throw to third, Arundell with the ball in his hand struck hima heavy blow in the back. Crane sprang to his feet and started for the dizzy catcher and Miller came to the rescue with a bat in his band. At this stage of the game, Umpire Hoover interfered and trouble was prevented. He then informed Arundell he would fine him $25. Following is the

To-night at the Grand Opera House we are to have the first of a series of concerts by the famous Mexican Typical Orchestra, an organization composed of twenty-five premier soloists, from the Royal Conservatory of Music. City of Mexico. Mex. The Mexican Typical Orchestra as an institution, is the result of a plan formulated some months ago to produce for the New Orleans Expohow reflect the musical inclinations and Gracie Siddall. The convention will meet tendencies of a country that Americans, with all their thirst for that which is movel and curious, albeit worthy of cultivation, have hitherto left undisturbed. The task of bringing together the band was intrusted to Senor Curti, who is not unknewn in Indianapolis, and that he succeeded in securing the co-operation of representative musicians of the land of the Monteruman can well be believed after seeing to-night's magnificent performance. The programme will be as follows: Overture, Raymond. Waltz, La Piume d'Or.

A. Thomas ... Waldteufel . Schubert Sr. A. Figaro

Solo on Xylophone Solo on the original Saltierio Sr. E. Garcia Overture, Pique Darue, Supse Potpourri of Mexican dances and American National airs.

The principal instruments used are violius, violas, satherios, guitars, violencellos and harps. The Cincinnati Enquirar, of Monday last, thus describes one of the concerts: "The players were arranged in three tiers in the center of the stage, while the leader occupied the conductor's desk within the orchestra rail on the main floor. No music was in sight at any time, the manners of the easemble and leader slike depending entirely upon memory for the notes of the scare and its respective parts. The music, of course, partook almost altoget er of that softer, more placid and facile character peculiar to a proble whose easence of life is romance and sentiment. The tersence of life is romance and sentiment. The tea-dency of the players throughout was to excessively fine shading and strong harmonic color. These traits, allied to their marvelous precision in attack and accent and artistic phrasing, combined to give unalloyed pleasure to the listener.

That which possibly best demonstrated their command of music of a specific class was the Schubert serenade. After a few introductory chords for herp the bando-lons, in unison, and supported by the remaining instruments, took up the delicious melody in purest singing style and carried it forward with a beauty of phrasing and an attention to lights and snades of expression that was as surprising as it was delightful. Recognition of its excellence was instantaneous and en-thusiastic. The Mexican bandolon utilized by Sener Vega in a single number to harp accompaniment is a peculiar instrument, with a tone not unlike that of the German zithern, but of more than treble scope in power and in the number of strangs. The two instruments proved a pleasing combination. With the violin as a solo instrument we are familiar, but were hitherto unaware that an Aztec, educated in Paris, could come to Cincinnati in the person of Signor Figueroa and tell the people something new in the art. He was in visible fil-health last night, but it seemed to count for naught in his playing. His bowing was disnapolis audience. The Mendelssohn the perfection of method, and his tone broad, string quartette played in their usual excelpure and true. Not less skillful was he with the left hand, as illustrated by some fearfully rapid and taking pizzicato effects, appearing in connec tion with variations upon a familiar air he played in response to a recall." A different programme will be given at each performance, and no lover

The W. C. T. U. convention for the District of Indiana began its session yesterday at the rooms on North Pennsylvania street. Mrs. Dr. Siddall, President of the District, presided. The morning session was principrogress. Reports of various committees were also received. At the evening meeting Rev. J. H. Doddridge, of Fistcher Place Church, spoke on the general thems. He did not believe the temperance cause had been in the least retarded by the recent campaign, and still thinks the proper is to educate the people He also contended that temperance is in polities to stay.

Rev. S. A. Bright, of Grace Church, also spoke. He recommended that the temperance people take their stand by the side of Messrs. Murphy and Morrison, Police Commissioners, in their work against the saloous. He wanted temperance education among the children, and recommended that the convention take steps to present the matter to all the religious meetings, and at the three Methodist conferences of the State this fall, to take the matter before the ministers and secure a day in each conference for the pre-
